3 WAYS SALES PEOPLE DISEMPOWER THEMSELVES

Could you be leaking your POWER without knowing or realising?

Can you identify with any of the following?

1. Thinking you are going to get 'found out'? This is also commonly known as 'Imposter Syndrome', the doubt that you are actually good enough for what the company expects of you, never mind whether you feel you are qualified for the job.
2. Unfairly comparing yourself against other people's strengths and failing to recognise your own brilliance.
3. Making assumptions about what you think your customers will think of you if you try to increase the rate too much.

Do you want to change all that?
